What's New?

* Allows MSN users to record Skype calls directly;

As we have mentioned that Microsoft ditches Windows Live Messenger for Skype. This means all the MSN users can use Skype to make an online call directly. There definitely exists conflicts with the same account IDs. Microsoft has found a solution to this problem: automatically add "live:" to the user IDs of Windows Live Messenger when they use Skype. That is why there are so many Skype account names start with "live:". Previously the Windows Live Messenger users cannot register AthTek Skype Recorder Lite directly with a Skype account started with "live:". But now the limitation has been removed and all the MSN accounts are allowed to use AthTek Skype Recorder Lite directly with nothing change.

* Corrects some translation errors.

There are a few typos existing in the old version of AthTek Skype Recorder Lite. We have correct them in the new version. That will definitely help you in quick getting started with Skype call recording.
