In the new version of AthTek Skype Recorder, we have added a new license type according to some customers' demand. If you are already a user of our Skype Recorder, you would know that the authorization was associated with your Skype Account ID. No matter you are using Skype Recorder on which computer, you can record Skype calls if you have a registration code. Now we have added a new Machine Bind License type. With this new authorization type, registration info will be authorized to the machine. That means no matter how many Skype users can use this computer, all of them can record Skype calls on this Machine. Learn more about the difference between licenses from here.
